Packed House & Prime Chats at El Paso County GOP's Lincoln Day Dinner w/ Rep. Lauren Boebert – Republicans & Conservatives Fill the House

ICYMI – Rep. Boebert's (CO-3) barn-burner of a speech and a massive silent (ironically, rather loud) auction made for an excellent evening of elbow rubbing for guests from all over Colorado.

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO (August 25, 2022) – Colorado's conservatives and Republicans who gathered for the El Paso County Republican Party's annual Lincoln Day Dinner enjoyed another evening of dynamite festivities, as well a fine time with Colorado's elected representative for the third district, Lauren Boebert. The Saturday, August 13 benefit also proved to be very... beneficial... to the local G.O.P.'s ability to back candidates who support reduced taxes and smaller government, as well as America First individuals and organizations.

Looking back: Storm clouds crept around Pike's Peak at dusk as an army of citizens, taxpayers and voters assembled in the Antlers Hotel's Heritage Ballroom. The rain graciously waited to fall until Lincoln Day Dinner attendees were inside. So many good folks from within and without El Paso County had asked to attend the sold-out event that organizers chose to add more tables to the room – a move graciously enabled by the staff at Colorado Springs' Antlers Hotel.

As for the main event, Representative Boebert took time to explain some of the real-world motivations that put her on track to run for – and be elected to – national office, highlighting that some of our elected representatives hold the same interests and expectations as everyday Colorado taxpayers. She also reminded voters that some people in Washington D.C. strap on their holsters just like their constituents – one Constitutionally-guaranteed right at a time. In the process, she hinted at her hope that President Trump win a third election in 2024.

“It’s get-togethers like this that make all the work that goes into our GOP organization worthwhile,” exclaimed Vickie Tonkins, chairman of El Paso County’s GOP. “So many good minds and hearts, dedicated to the betterment of Colorado and America. Everyone enjoyed the new, bigger venue – the Antlers’ staffers were so courteous and helpful. ...And Representative Boebert sparkled like the Fourth. The all-volunteer GOP El Paso staff once again outdid themselves – I cannot wait to get going on next year’s Lincoln Day Dinner.”
