Inflated Enough Already? Joe Biden's Gas Prices Are Double Trump's as Every Democrat Policy Fails Colorado's Taxpayers

*Now you know how New York City, Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore and other Dem-led cities feel:
A Democrat in charge is an albatross around Lady Liberty's neck.*

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO (September 30, 2022) – Average gas prices per gallon never topped $3.00 during Donald Trump's time in the White House. Since the return of Democrat policies, led by Joe Biden, prices for the same gallon of gas have risen to a national average of $5.02 (...as of June, 2022). In high-tax coastal municipalities like New York, Boston, Los Angeles and San Francisco, drivers would trade their lattes for gas-station joe to have five-dollar gas again – in these regions, a gallon of gas regularly rings up in excess of $7.00. ...And while Pres. Biden has repeatedly bleated that gas prices are falling (to about $5.49 in California, but rising again), he's hard-pressed to overcome basic math: if you take a buck off five-dollar gas, it will still cost a dollar more than Pres. Trump's highest gas prices. There never seems to be an adult in the room of a Democrat led administration.

For voters, the madcap flight of dough from their wallets into daily expenses – gas, food, insurance, home repair, services and more – It is easy to see that those who are Democrat leaning, no matter what party they are in, have no idea how to run anything that is of benefit to the American people. For the isolated few who haven't yet noticed skyrocketing interest rates, market depression and global topsy-turvy that march in league with a hobbled America (or those who've the luxury of no respect for the value of a dollar), these repercussions of inflation will pry more and more of their heads from the sand every day.

Just mention the cost of natural gas, electricity, cars, insurance, lending, food or doing business, and watch your neighbors' eyes roll. Then, remind them where we were two years ago (after four years of Conservative America First Policies), and compare that to what Dem's policies of party and collectivism first (and Americans last) have cost each of us.

"It's got to be a lot of work for someone not to notice the damage done to working Americans by the current occupier of the White House. How long can people support such poisonous policies?" asked Vickie Tonkins, chairman of the Colorado's El Paso County GOP. Winston Churchill said something to the effect of 'When all else fails, Americans do the right thing'. We're nearing that point again, where the men and women of America seek to restore the goodness, common sense and bristling strength that made our nation the great thing it is. Our El Paso County Office will continue to work to Keep America Great."
